also coordinate the use of Royal part of the hospital and the college.

The centre has its own board of directors and will function as an

RE: Relocation Faculty Staff Lounge N.W.
Campus

The College's success in obtaining additional funding allowing us to open additional classes in this Fall Semester has had one unfortunate effect. The only classroom type space readily available in New Westminster was Room 104 - the faculty staff lounge. The necessity to revert this lounge space to classroom use is regretted. Please be assured that provision of space for a faculty staff lounge is a firm commitment of management. There is, however, no immediate solution at hand and as an interim measure only the existing faculty staff lounge furniture has been relocated in the staff lunch room located on the second floor of Building 700. This facility will be available week days during the hours of 7:30 and 5:00 p.m.

Fall Registration

At the College Council Meeting held on September 23, 1976, George Wootton and Gerry DellaMattia reported on the success and also problems encountered during the fall registration.

The registration period was on the whole a smooth running operation with the major problem being that course selections were limited because of discipline sections being filled up so early.

The success of the registration is due to the hard working efforts of the Admissions Staff and College-wide Faculty and Staff. Council was pleased to receive this report and extended a vote of confidence and appreciation to all personnel who contributed to this successful operation.

Letters:

Gentlemen:

I would like to thank the four individuals that have signed up for the over 30 Basketball League. However, four people just isn't enough to field a basketball team of any sort. I'm somewhat upset with the response we've had to the basketball league. During the summer there was an endless line of people asking for activities of this sort. Then when the crunch finally hit, only a few people would take part in this activity. Gentlemen, I have broken my ass trying to get this thing off to a real good start. But the response from the faculty and the staff personnell have been very, very low. As I can see it you have asked me to go ahead and organize something of this sort. It's organized, it's ready to go, but gentlemen, I repeat, gentlemen get off of your ass and on your feet and sign up. If I don't have a better response this week, what I'm going to do is open up to the community and have them compete on our team. Note this is a recreational league, you do not have to play every Thursday night. It has been taken into consideration that you will have classes. However, second semester could be a horse of a different color and you will have every Thursday free. Gentlemen let's not let this thing die, it is a good fun league, lots of laughs and lots of exercise and most of all meeting other instructors and teachers playing in this league. Again, let's not let this fail because it's a damn good fun league.

Thank you

Bill Long

My father-out-law has done it again: published. This time it is the ARGONAUTICA (of Apollonius Rhodius) ~~in~~ translated into English dactyllic hexameter. It was published a few days ago. If you would like autographed copies from the first hundred off at wholesale price (the perfect Christmas ~~and~~ gift?), let me know (at Richmond campus). Send $3.10 before the end of October. These books are available later, of course, but at a higher price and unsigned. At this time, you may also apply for autographed copies of his earlier works in the dactyllic, namely the Iliad and Odyssey.
